

Plenary Closing

Recommendations for Building Stronger Structures for Knowledge Exchange & Collaboration in Science Eco-systems for Improved Societal Impact

C.131 (14.00-14.25)

Recommendations from the parallel sessions (part 2) & roundtable

C.131 (9.40-10.00)

Roundtable: Interdisciplinarity & Building Teams

“The changing research ecosystem demands a fresh approach to nurturing research leadership”

C.131 (9.40-10.00)

Roundtable: Open Science & Societal Impact

“Assessment system within and across institutions which recognise and reward a broad range of activities, supported by more risk-taking by funders.”

C.131 (9.40-10.00)

Roundtable: Co-creation for Excellence & Impact

“Ask yourself, what are you good for? Trust, leadership and shared values are the foundation for co-creation and sustainable impact ”

C.131 (14.00-14.25)

Science Policy, Recognition & Rewards for Increasing Impact

“Broadening the space of recognition and the reward system through dialogue amongst different stakeholders, combining top down and bottom up in an inclusive way.”

C.131 (14.00-14.25)

Institutional Strategy & Leadership

“Leadership and strategy requires a participatory approach within and outside of the academy”

C.131 (14.00-14.25)

Training and Skills for Societal Impact

“Start developing insights and attitudes of researchers and then support by helping them articulate”

C.131 (14.00-14.25)

Impact on SDG's & Border-Crossing Challenges

“To involve all the stakeholders along the research process, plus action programme and start from the beginning”

C.131 (14.00-14.25)

Public Engagement & Science Communication

“Building a trusting relationship with media, in order to support each other in an accurate way”

Highest Ranking of the Recommendations

Science Policy, Recognition & Rewards for Increasing Impact

“Broadening the space of recognition and the reward system through dialogue amongst different stakeholders, combining top down and bottom up in an inclusive way.”

Panel Discussion

Chaired by David Sweeney

Max Dumoulin Vice President of Institutional Offerings, Elsevier

Matthew Flinders Professor of Politics, University of Sheffield

Leonie van Drooge Senior Project Manager, CWTS

Inge Hutter Rector, International Institute for Social Studies

Impact of Science

22-24 June, Leiden

Thank You!