- IMPACT OF SCIENCE -

Science funders and research programme designers are constantly challenged to maintain an effective and efficient science funding system, while justifying the investments in scientific research towards politics. The pressure increases on governmental and non-governmental science funding organisations to demonstrate the economical and societal returns on their investments in science.

All around the world, experts are improving the process of measuring and communicating the impact of science on society. For example, Poland is introducing a new Model of Research Quality Assessment covering i.a. economic and societal impact of research and development works, which is a crucial aspect of comprehensive reform of the science and higher education system introduced by the Law on Higher Education and Science.

Research with societal impact involves different stakeholders from researchers, policymakers, research councils, local municipalities and beyond, and therefore also different causal logics, different expectations for impact and different timelines for social impacts to occur, as well as different scale effects. There is a need for societal impact measurement and advancement, therefore we need to co-develop effective systems to adapt existing national or regional frameworks and guide coordinated actions involving academic and non-academic actors in government, industry and society as a whole.

The AESIS Network has successfully organised the annual conference 'Impact of Science' seven times, bringing together experts such as R&D evaluators, university managers, research councils, policy makers, funders, and other stakeholders of impact. The goal is sharing, evaluating, and discussing best practices around the world on:

- Policy strategies for societal impact
- Creating (long-term) alliances between stakeholders
- Regional, national, and international instruments for evaluating and achieving impact
- Current issues on i.e. public engagement, evidence-informed policy, interdisciplinary approaches, and harmonising definitions and assumptions.

In its approaches the AESIS Network is convinced that societal impact:

- can only be robust based on a well-balanced insight on how the impact of science on society can be measured;
- should investigate the impact of the humanities, the social sciences, and the hard sciences in one comparable approach for accountability, leaving ample institutional flexibility;
- will be optimised by aligning perspectives from all stakeholders of impact, including (but not limited to): research management, funders, scientometricians & societal partners.

Andrew Plume	Senior Director of Research Evaluation at Elsevier, United Kingdom
Susan Renoe	Assistant Vice Chancellor, University of Missouri & Executive Director of the NSF Center for Advancing Research Impact in Society
Toby Smith	Vice President of Policy at the American Association of Universities, USA
David Sweeney	Executive Chair, Research England, United Kingdom
Paul Wouters	Dean of Social Sciences & former Director of CWTS, Leiden University, The Netherlands

08.30-09.00 Registration & Informal Coffee-chat

Welcome by:

09.00 Jerzy Lis Rector, AGH - University of Science and Technology, Krakow, Poland

09.10 Wojciech Murdzek Minister of Science and Higher Education, Republic of Poland

Conference chair

09.20 David Sweeney Executive Chair, Research England, UK

9.35-11.00 I Plenary opening: Policies for Impact

09.35 Sarah Howard Branch manager Research Excellence of the Australian Research Council

The Australian Engagement and Impact Assessment and its potential for future research evaluation

09.50 Blazej Skoczeń Chairman of the Committee for Science Evaluation, Republic of Poland

New solutions in Polish research assessment exercise

10.05 Molapo Qhobela CEO of the National Research Foundation, South Africa

How to catalyse knowledge production for societal benefit, the NRF approach

10.20 Boyana Konforti Director, Scientific Strategy & Development at the Howard Hughes Medical Institute

Next steps on Impact in university appreciation through the San Francisco Declaration on Research Assessment (DORA)

10.35 Panel & Q&A

11.00-11.30 Break

11.30-12.45 II Parallel sessions: Assessment & Demonstration of Societal Impact

Policies for Impact Evaluation

Policies for impact evaluation (€ funding) on a national level

David Sweeney (Chair)
Executive Chair, Research England, UK

Kim Huijpen
Policy adviser at the VSNU, the Netherlands

Jinwon Kang
Policy officer, Korea-EU Research Center & Korea Institute of S&T Evaluation and Planning

Institutional Impact Profile

Effectively evaluating impact to gain more insight in impact performance and build strategy around strengths

Thomas König* (Chair)
Head of Strategy and Scientific Services, Institute for Advanced Studies, Austria

Julie Bayley
Director of Research Impact Development, University of Lincoln, UK

Barend van der Meulen
Director CHEPS, Twente University, former head of research at Rathenau, the Netherlands

Data Analysis and CRIS

What are the latest developments in measuring to create more structured insight in impact-performance?

Andrew Plume (Chair)
Senior Director of Research Evaluation at Elsevier, UK

Simon Kerridge
Director of Research Services, Kent University, UK

Vilius Stanciauskas
Director of Technote and founder of the Data4Impact project, Lithuania

Assessment Approaches for SSH

Diversification of assessment for SSH in comparison to other disciplines

David Budtz Pedersen (Chair)
Director of the Humanomics Research Centre, Denmark

Claire Donovan
Professor of Higher Education at the University of Greenwich, UK

Emanuel Kulczycki
Member of the Committee for Science Evaluation, Poland
